

Open Source Support Through Small Grants

(Revised 11/2017)

For awards made through the small grants program, the Dean's office will provide up to $1,000 in matching funds for fees required to publish in open source journals.

We strongly encourage you to seek out the journals with the highest impact ratings and wish to minimize open source charges, but realize they may be necessary in some cases.

November 17, 2017